TRULAN RESOURCES, INC
Notes to the Financial Statements
December 31, 2012 and December 31, 2011
(All figures stated in United States Dollars)

1.) Nature of Operations

Trulan Resources, Inc. (“we,” “our,” “us,” or “Trulan”) was incorporated in the state of Delaware on March 11, 1971. Operating as Hire International, Inc. up until September 30, 2012 we were a global provider of human resource solutions offering direct placement recruiting in a variety of fields, contingent staffing, employee benefits management and employee leasing.

In October 2012 we sold all of our subsidiaries and assets and liabilities which were related to human resources to our majority shareholder and principal lender at that time in exchange for the forgiveness of $269,163 of debt and the assumption of all debt and obligations of our subsidiaries.

Concurrently with the aforementioned transaction we affected a name change to Trulan Resources, Inc. and initiated a change in plan of operations to that of a natural resource mineral exploration company whose primary focus is to locate and acquire mineral concessions and properties that have experienced various degrees of previous exploratory work where anomalous values of gold, silver and Platinum Group Metals (“PGM’s”) have been discovered. Such properties will be evaluated for potential acquisition based on existing data, current metal’s market valuations and modern exploration and mining techniques.

2.) Liquidity and Going Concern

Our financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis which assumes we will be able to meet our obligations and continue our operations during the next fiscal year. Asset realization values may be significantly different from carrying values as shown in our financial statements and do not give effect to adjustments that would be necessary to the carrying values of assets and liabilities should we be unable to continue as a going concern.

As shown in the accompanying financial statements, we incurred a net loss of ($38,168) and ($74,541) during the periods ended December 31, 2012 and December 31, 2011, respectively. We expect to incur further losses near-term in the development of our business, all of which casts substantial doubt about our ability to continue as a going concern. Our ability to continue as a going concern depends on our ability to generate future profits and/or obtain the necessary financing to meet our obligations arising from normal business operations when they come due. We anticipate that additional funding will be in the form of convertible debt financings (see subsequent events footnote) or equity financings from the sale of our common stock. We may also seek to obtain loans from officers, directors or significant shareholders.

3.) Significant accounting policies

Basis of presentation:

The accompanying financial statements of Trulan Resources, Inc. as of December 31, 2012 and December 31, 2011, respectively, are unaudited and have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

The results of the periods presented in these financial statements are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for any future period. While management believes that these financial statements are a fair presentation of the economic results of operations and financial condition of the consolidated companies, the financial statements are unaudited. Therefore, it is the opinion of management that an audit would require adjustments to these financial statements and that these adjustments may or may not be material to the presentation in substance and form.

Reclassifications

Certain reclassifications have been made to our prior year financial statements to confirm to our current year presentation. These reclassifications had no effect on our previously reported results of operations or accumulated deficit.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

We consider all amounts on deposit with financial institutions and highly liquid investments with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Concentrations of Credit Risk

Our financial instruments which potentially subject us to credit risk are our cash and cash equivalents. We maintain our cash and cash equivalents at reputable financial institutions and currently, we are not exposed to significant credit risk.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

We value our financial assets and liabilities using fair value measurements. Our financial instruments primarily consist of cash and cash equivalents, accounts payable, accrued liabilities and amounts due to related parties. Fair value is based on the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The carrying amount of cash and cash equivalents, accounts payable, accrued liabilities and amounts due to related parties approximates fair value because of the short term nature of these financial instruments.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires us to make estimates, assumptions and judgments that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities as of the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of expenses during the periods presented.

We make our estimate of the ultimate outcome for these items based on historical trends and other information available when the financial statements are prepared. Changes in estimates are recognized in accordance with the accounting rules for the estimate, which is typically in the period when the new information becomes available.

We believe that our significant estimates, assumptions and judgments are reasonable, based upon information available at the time they were made. Actual results could differ from these estimates, making it possible that a change in these estimates could occur in the near term.

Impairment of Long-lived Assets

We continually monitor events and changes in circumstances that could indicate that our carrying amounts of long-lived assets, including mineral rights, may not be recoverable. When such events or changes in circumstances occur, we assess the recoverability of long-lived assets by determining whether the carrying value of such assets will be recovered through their undiscounted future cash flows. If the future undiscounted cash flows are less than the carrying amount of these assets, we recognize an impairment loss based on the excess of the carrying amount over the fair value of the assets.

Income Taxes

We account for income taxes through the use of the asset and liability method. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax basis, and for income tax carry-forwards. A valuation allowance is recorded to the extent that we cannot conclude that realization of deferred tax assets is more likely than not. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognized in operations in the period that includes the enactment date.

We follow a two-step approach to recognizing and measuring tax benefits associated with uncertain tax positions taken or expected to be taken in a tax return. The first step is to determine if, based on the technical merits, it is more likely than not that the tax position will be sustained upon examination by a taxing authority, including resolution of any related appeals or litigation processes. The second step is to measure the tax benefit as the largest amount that is more than 50% likely to be realized upon ultimate settlement with a taxing authority. We recognize interest and penalties, if any, related to uncertain tax positions in our provision for income taxes in the statements of operations. To date we have not recognized any tax benefits from uncertain tax positions.

Related Party Amounts Due

Amounts due to related parties are classified as current liabilities because the related parties are control persons and have the ability to control the repayment dates of the amounts owed.

Mining Claims / Mineral Rights

We have determined that our mining claims meet the definition of mineral right, as defined by accounting standards, and are tangible assets. As a result, our direct costs to acquire or lease mineral rights are initially capitalized as tangible assets. Mineral rights include costs associated with: leasing or acquiring patented and unpatented mining claims, leasing mineral rights including lease signature bonuses, lease rental payments and advance minimum royalty payments; and options to purchase or lease mineral properties.

If we establish proven and probable reserves for a mineral property and establish that the mineral property can be economically developed, mineral rights will be amortized over the estimated useful life of the property following commencement of commercial production of expensed if it is determined that the mineral property has no future economic value or if the property is sold or abandoned. For mineral rights in which proven and probable reserves have not yet been established, we assess the carrying values for impairment at the end of each reporting period and whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value may not be recoverable.

The net carrying value of our mineral rights represents the fair value at the time the mineral rights were acquired less accumulated depletion and any impairment losses. Proven and probable reserves have not been proven for the mineral rights as of December 31, 2012. No impairment loss was recognized during the years ended December 31, 2013 and 2011, and mineral rights are net of $0.00 of impairment losses as of December 31, 2012.

Exploration Costs

Mineral exploration costs are expensed as incurred. When it has been determined that it is economically feasible to extract minerals and the permitting process has been initiated, exploration costs incurred to delineate and develop the property are considered pre-commercial production costs and will be capitalized and included as mine development costs in our balance sheets.

Net Loss per Common Share

We compute basic net loss per common share by dividing our net loss attributable to common shareholders by our weighted average-average number of common shares outstanding during the period. Computation of diluted net loss per common shares is similar to our computation of basic net loss per common share except that the numerator is increased to exclude charges which would not have been incurred, and the denominator is increased to include the number of additional common shares that would have been outstanding (using the if-converted and treasure stock methods) if securities containing potentially dilutive common shares (stock options and convertible debt) had been converted to common shares, and if such assumed conversion is dilutive.

All potential common shares outstanding have been excluded from diluted net loss per common share because the impact of such inclusion would be anti-dilutive. Our potential common shares outstanding at December 31, 2012 and 2011, were 80,500,000 and 85,000,000, respectively, and were comprised of shares underlying convertible notes payable to stockholders.

New Accounting Standards

From time to time, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (“FASB”) or other standards setting bodies issue new accounting pronouncements. Updates to the FASB Accounting Standards Codification are communicated through issuance of an Accounting Standards Update. Unless otherwise discussed, we believe that the impact of recently issued guidance, whether adopted or to be adopted in the future, is not expected to have a material impact on our consolidated financial statements upon adoption.

4.) Related Party Transactions

During the twelve months ended December 31, 2012 our Chief Executive Officer advanced or incurred expenses on our behalf of $31,041 associated with business development activities in the execution of our business plan. These advances bear no interest and have no specified repayment terms.

On October 29, 2012 we acquired a mining claim located in Sierra County, California known as the Eureka Placer Claim from our Chief Executive Officer in exchange for the issuance 320,000,000 shares of our common stock. The Eureka Placer Claim is located on Eureka Creek in California’s Sierra City Mining District which stretches through Furnier, Loganville, Church Meadows, Gold Valley and the Sierra City Butte areas. We are currently making preparations to explore for gold on this property.

5.) Convertible Notes Payable-Stockholders

During the fourth quarter of 2012 we converted $4,500 of Convertible Notes Payable-Stockholders into shares of our common stock. At December 31, 2012, following this conversion, our balance of Convertible Notes Payable-Stockholders was $80,500.

During the twelve months ended December 31, 2012 and 2011 we incurred interest expense associated with Convertible Notes Payable-Stockholders of $7,650 in each year. Accrued interest on Convertible Notes Payable-Stockholders as of December 31, 2012 and 2001 was $22,950 and $15,300, respectively.

6.) Recapitalization

In October 2012 we affected the following amendments to our Articles of Incorporation:

- Decreased our authorized capitalization to 500,000,000 shares of common stock;
- Authorized the issuance of 10,000,000 shares of preferred stock; and
- Reverse split the Company’s outstanding common stock on a 1-for-1,000 basis.

7.) Subsequent Events

IGP Project – IV Region – Region de Coquimbo – Chile

In February 2013 we entered into a definitive agreement to acquire a 100% interest in an Iron Gold Platinum project (“IGP” or the “IGP Project”) in the IV Region-Region de Coquimbo-of Chile. This relatively small region has a long history of mining and several operations are currently in production, including the Los Pelambres Deposit, which is the world's fifth largest copper mine.

The IGP Project totals 885 Hectares (2,186 acres) of wide spread mineralization and ore bodies that contain high grades of Iron, Gold, Platinum and high value industrial minerals. There are eight known deposits in close proximity which have been tested to the point where an Indicated Ore resource has been delineated. Under the definitive agreement we will acquire four ore bodies with an aggregate Indicated Reserve in excess of 247 Million Metric Tons. Each of the four ore deposits has not been fully tested to determine ultimate size and they all remain open on all sides and at depth. Further exploration beyond the zones outlined to date is needed to realize the full extent of mineralization and the total size of the Ore bodies.

$1,000,000 Debt Financing

In March 2013 we negotiated a loan agreement with a private investment group to provide us with $1,000,000 of debt capital. The funds will be provided in stages in order to fulfill various work initiatives on our IGP Project in Chile (see above).

The term of the loan is two years from the date the full amount of the facility is advanced to us and bears interest at the rate of 6% per annum. The loan may be converted into our common shares at the discretion of the lender at any time during the term of the loan. The conversion rate of the loan into our common shares is at the rate of $0.25 in the first year and $0.50 in the second year.

We have already received funds under the agreement and further tranches will be advanced in scheduled intervals as we execute our business plan.

Formation of Wholly-Owned Subsidiary

In March 2013 we formed a Chilean subsidiary, Trulan Resources S.A. to hold the Chilean assets of our parent company, Trulan Resources, Inc. and to conduct business within Chile as we move forward with the exploration of our IGP Project.
