Announces Appointment of Chief Executive Officer

25 May 2023: CECORS, INC. (OTC PINK: CEOS) ("CeCors" or the "Company"), announced that it has appointed Kate Monroe as the Chief Executive Officer of the Company.

About Kate Monroe

Kate Monroe is a highly accomplished professional with a distinguished journey. Born in Northern California, she embarked on a path of continuous growth and challenges from an early age. After attending Corban University, Kate recognized her need for a greater challenge, leading her to make the courageous decision to join the Marine Corps. She credits the Marine Corps for shaping her into the person she is today, setting her on a trajectory for a successful life and career. Her military background, serves as a catalyst, earning her respect and impacting the minds of those she interacts with. Kate's entrepreneurial spirit was instilled in her by her father, which propelled her to numerous successful ventures in various industries. Kates most recent venture is the founding of VetComm, a veteran's education and benefits company focused on assisting United States veterans that qualify for underutilized annual benefits and owed compensation, resulting in billions of dollars of unclaimed benefits in the United States every year. Kate continues to shape the landscape of veteran support, while also bringing her expertise and passion to drive the success of CeCors Inc. Kate Monroe is a tenacious and driven individual who thrives on empowering others to achieve success, her personal triumphs serve as a testament to her ability to inspire and lead.
